

Holidays are the focal point of many family gatherings. We turn excuses into reasons to gather, celebrate, avoid, provoke - all in the name of the Season.

There are holidays for everything - celebrations of birth, togetherness, loss, and victory. They mark the change of the seasons and the time spent apart from loved ones.

In this our 8th offering, Erie Tales takes note of 8 holidays, adding our own distinctive brand to the revered and forgotten, the hailed and the hidden.

Decorate your sacrifices, hang your trees, lay out your spread - the Holidays are coming, and they are hungry.

GLAHW PRESENTS

ERIE TALES

